People in this Issue: Pearl Lam; A gallerist who began exhibiting Chinese contemporary art in Hong Kong in 1993, and now has spaces in Shanghai and another planned to open in Singapore this year. Is is passionate about promoting design in China. Attilio Codognato; A fifth-generation jeweler and has amassed one of the finest art collections in the world. Throughout his beautiful home in Venice one finds 20th century art displayed alongside superb antique furniture. Daphne Guinness; An artist of both English and Irish nationality. Her style has inspired many artists. In 2011 the Fashion Institute of Technology, New York, held an exhibition examining her unique aesthetic. Walton Ford; An American artist, known for his meticulously executed watercolours. His work draws inspiration from 19th century artists such as the naturalist John James Audubon and the French caricaturist J.J. Grandville, who satirises mankind's shortcomings through part-human, part-animal subjects. Lilli Doriguzzi; An Italian artist based in Venice. Much of her work is inspired by the romance of the city in which she lives. Andy Williams; An American singer of popular music, and is closely associated with the song 'Moon River' from the film Breakfast at Tiffany's, which he performed at the 1962 Oscar Awards. Fabrizio Plessi; An Italian artist best known for his video art, which tends to have the theme of water as its subject matter. Massimiliano Gioni; A Curator and art critic based in new York. He is artistic director of this year's Venice Biennale, responsible for curating the International Exhibition. Jeremy Deller; A British artist, known for his installation and video art. He began making art during the early 1990. Jean-Michael Basquiat; An American artist, and one of the towering geniuses of the late 20th century. His street-art sensibility galvanized the art world with the extraordinary rhythm of his brushwork.
